

Van de Walle Shapes

Page 1 of 6

Copy the shapes on these 6 pages on colored construction paper or cardstock. Shapes can be enlarged, and tape or magnets could be added to the back for display purposes. All 6 pages should be copied on the same color construction paper, making one set of Van de Walle shapes. This helps students pay closer attention to the shapes' attributes, rather than just the color of the shapes.

Van de Walle Shapes

Page 2 of 6

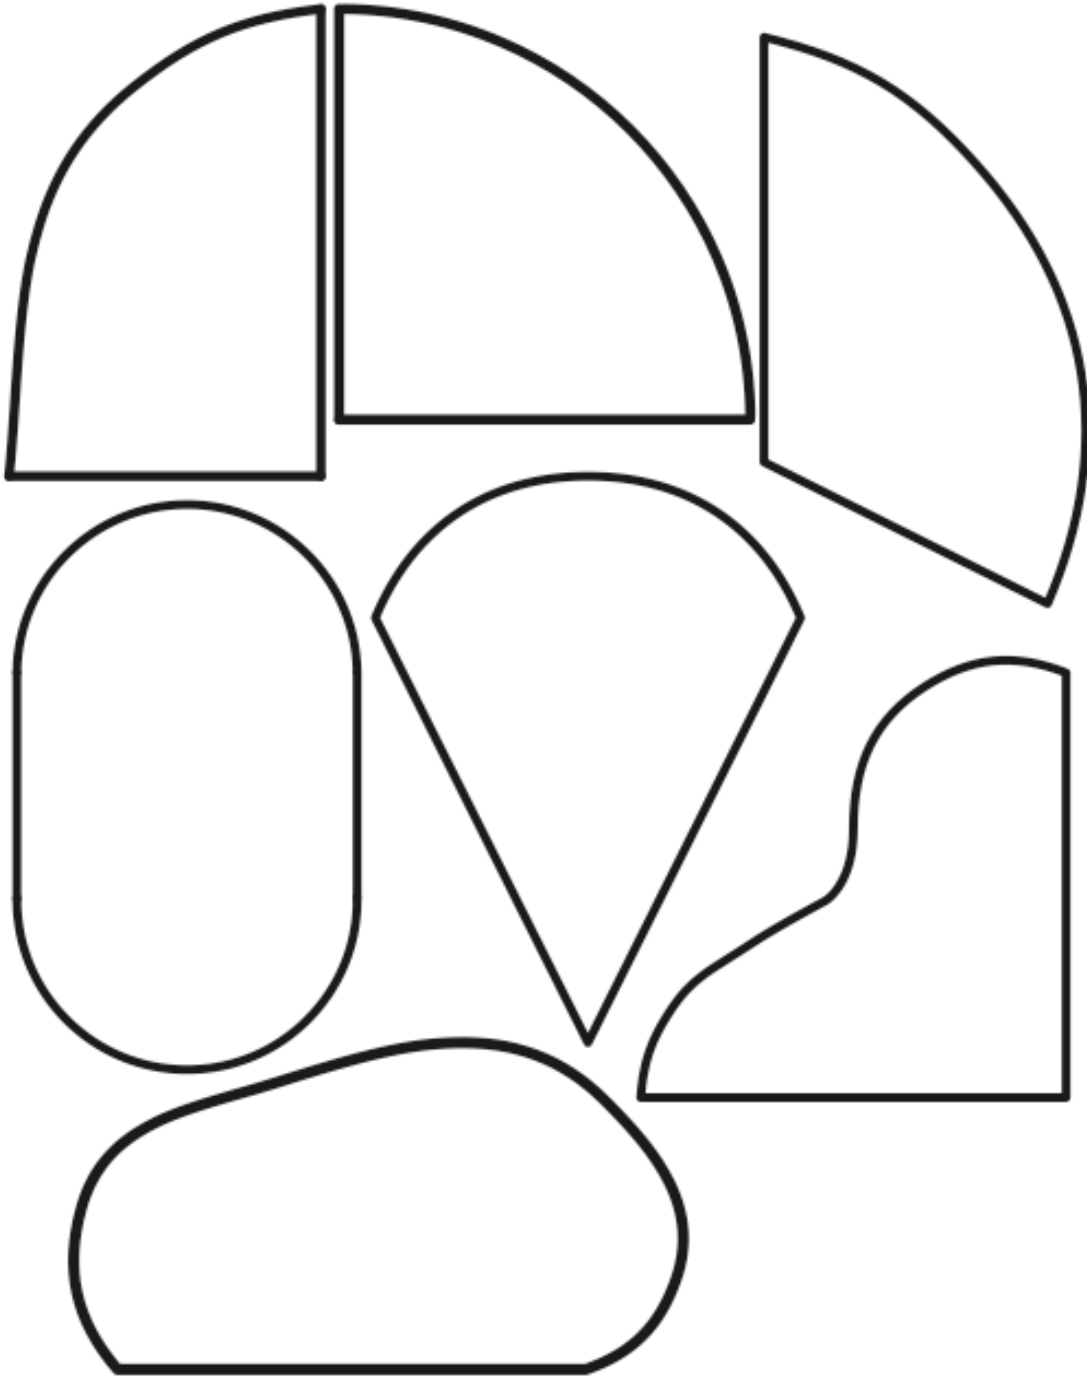

Copy the shapes on these 6 pages on colored construction paper or cardstock. Shapes can be enlarged, and tape or magnets could be added to the back for display purposes. All 6 pages should be copied on the same color construction paper, making one set of Van de Walle shapes. This helps students pay closer attention to the shapes' attributes, rather than just the color of the shapes.

Van de Walle Shapes

Page 3 of 6

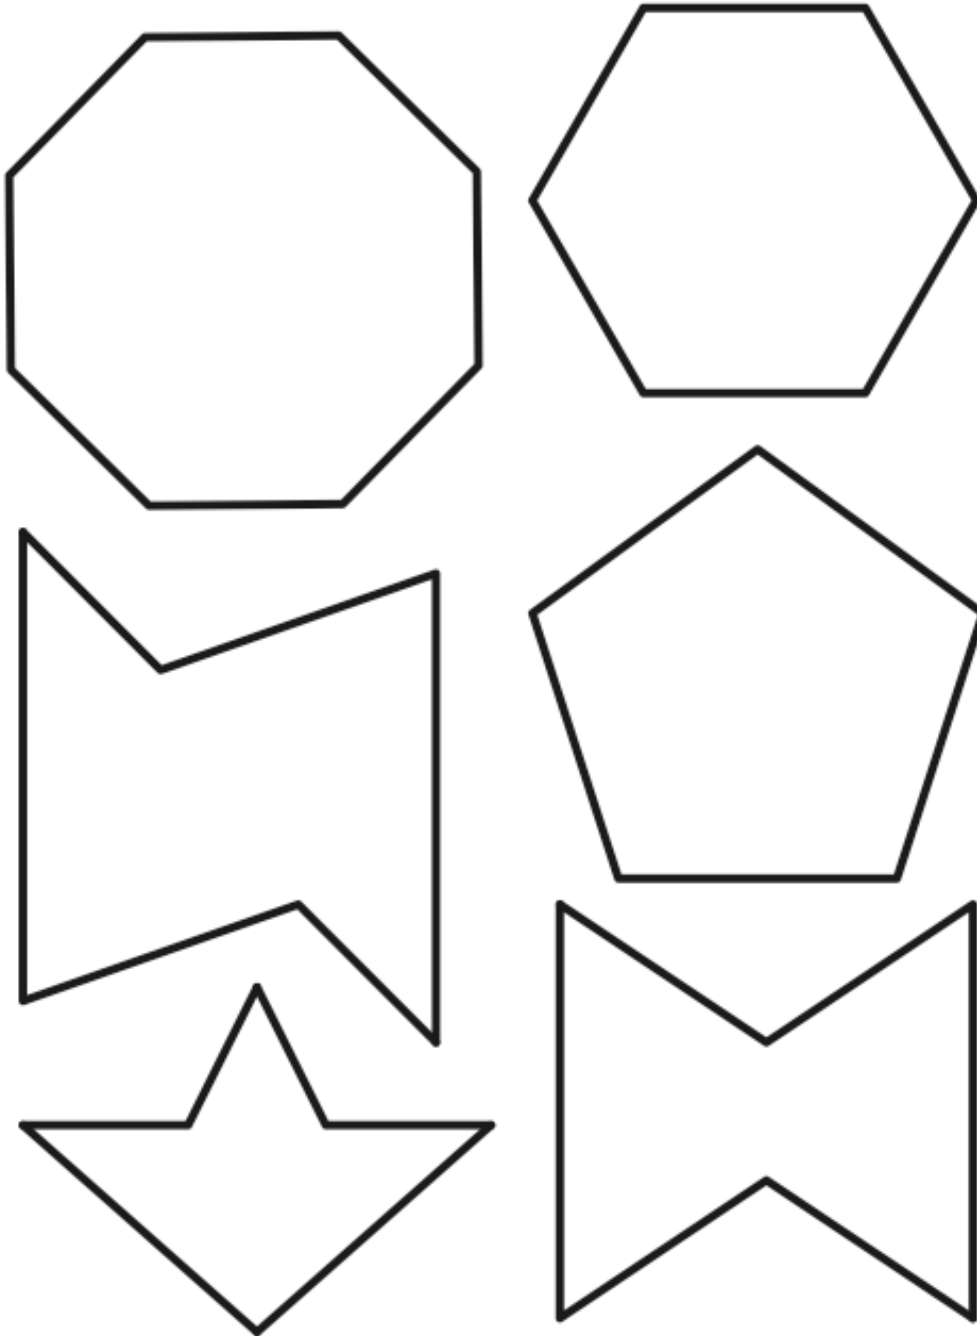

Copy the shapes on these 6 pages on colored construction paper or cardstock. Shapes can be enlarged, and tape or magnets could be added to the back for display purposes. All 6 pages should be copied on the same color construction paper, making one set of Van de Walle shapes. This helps students pay closer attention to the shapes' attributes, rather than just the color of the shapes.

Van de Walle Shapes

Page 4 of 6

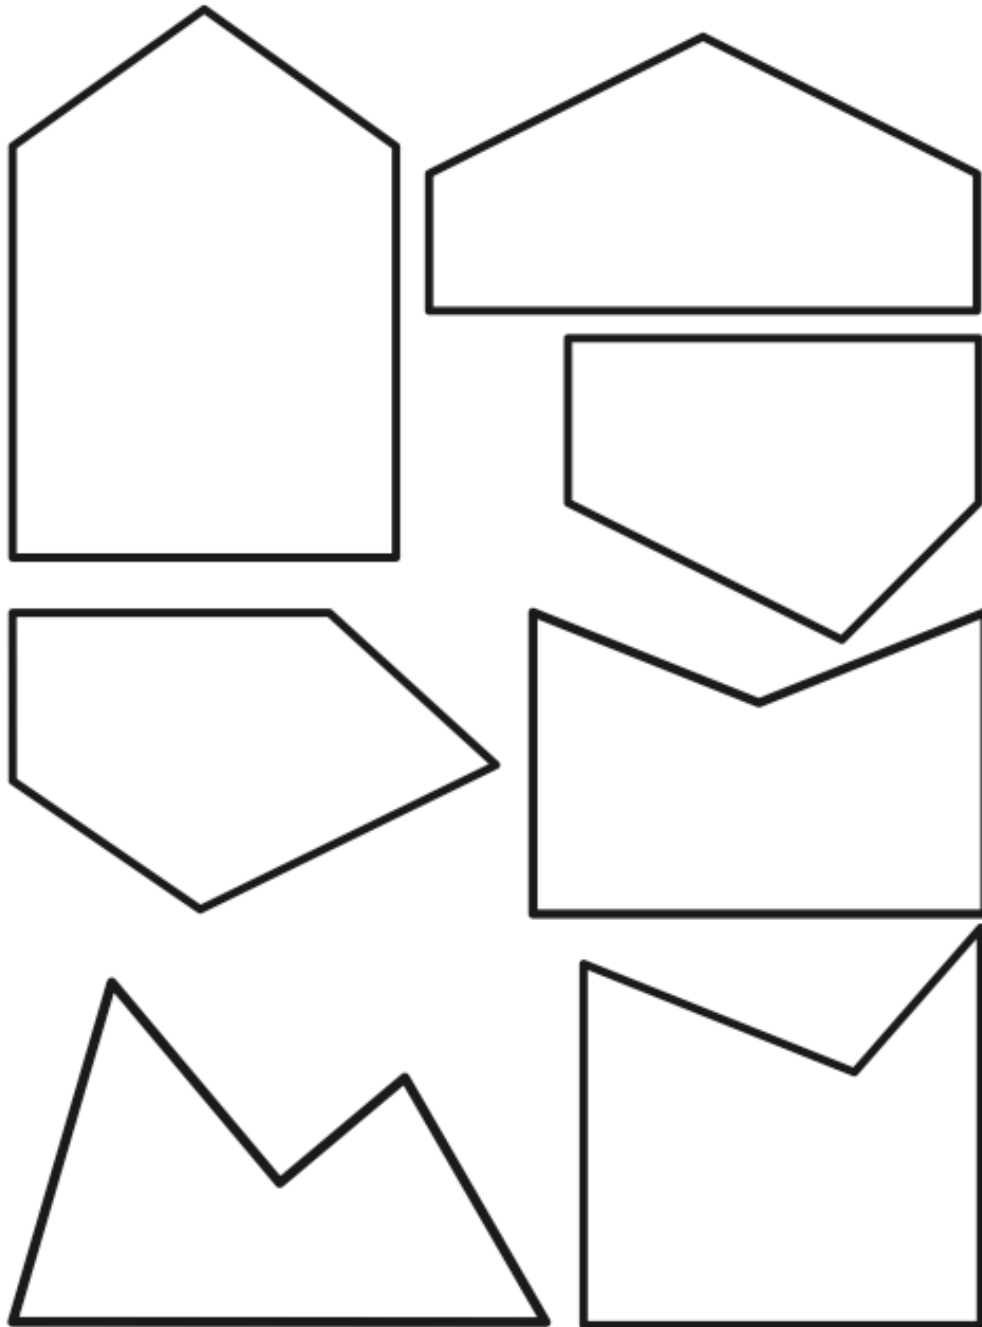

Copy the shapes on these 6 pages on colored construction paper or cardstock. Shapes can be enlarged, and tape or magnets could be added to the back for display purposes. All 6 pages should be copied on the same color construction paper, making one set of Van de Walle shapes. This helps students pay closer attention to the shapes' attributes, rather than just the color of the shapes.

Van de Walle Shapes

Page 5 of 6

Copy the shapes on these 6 pages on colored construction paper or cardstock. Shapes can be enlarged, and tape or magnets could be added to the back for display purposes. All 6 pages should be copied on the same color construction paper, making one set of Van de Walle shapes. This helps students pay closer attention to the shapes' attributes, rather than just the color of the shapes.

Van de Walle Shapes

Page 6 of 6

Copy the shapes on these 6 pages on colored construction paper or cardstock. Shapes can be enlarged, and tape or magnets could be added to the back for display purposes. All 6 pages should be copied on the same color construction paper, making one set of Van de Walle shapes. This helps students pay closer attention to the shapes' attributes, rather than just the color of the shapes.

